

WOODMAN

Published by HIGHLAND HARDWARE, INC. December 1979

WHAT IS A WOODMAN?

He/She is this kind of person:

His basement floor is usually covered with sawdust.

Used tools are accumulating in drawers and on shelves and in boxes. New tools arrive at Christmas and on birthdays.

Scraps of wood are seldom thrown away. Eventually whittled or sawed or maybe shimmed away between a wall and column, always good for kindling next winter.

He feels pleasure seeing his thoughts and feelings reflected in pieces of wood worked on by his own hands.

In stages, he is learning more and more about wood, joinery, design, and finishing. Each project is a step along the way. (Tomorrow's project is always waiting...)

WELCOME

We are pleased to present you with this first issue of WOODMAN, a newsletter devoted to the woodworker and his craft.

WOODMAN is published by Highland Hardware, Inc., a company founded in 1978 by us, Chris and Sharon Bagby. Our store at 1034 N. Highland Avenue at Virginia Ave. in NE Atlanta is a center for woodworkers, and we are creating WOODMAN as an opportunity to communicate with you.

This issue describes our unique hardwood lumber supply, our custom planing operation, the fine woodworking tools which we offer, and the first of what we hope will be a continuing series of woodworking seminars.

We invite your interest in our operation. We are here to serve you.

We invite you to attend our two-part Woodworking Seminar on Saturday, Dec. 8. PLANESMANSHIP is the topic from 10 A.M. until 12 noon. F.H. Bohannon, a skilled craftsman from this neighborhood, will give us a look at adjusting and using a number of different steel and wood-bodied planes, including the Primus planes and the Stanley and Record Multi-planes.

SHARPENING WOODWORKING TOOLS is the topic from 2 P.M. until 4 P.M. Mr. Bohannon will focus on sharpening carving tools, plane irons, saw blades and planer knives.

You may attend either morning or afternoon session or both. In each session we will allow time for individual questions and sharing of information from those attending.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8

10 A.M. "PLANESMANSHIP"

2 P.M. "SHARPENING WOODWORKING TOOLS"

GREENLEE

Reintroducing a fine, time-honored line of premium quality woodcrafting tools for hobbyists and professional craftsmen

For many years, beginning in the late 1800's, Greenlee manufactured fine tools for cabinet and furniture makers. Now, this experience and reputation is being applied to an expanded line of premium quality hand tools for everyone from occasional hobbyists to professional woodworkers . . . for everything from whittling to woodturning.

Made of the finest selected materials and designs from England, Germany and America, these tools meet the highest standards of use, durability and appearance. They're a pleasure to see and touch . . . reflecting the pride that has gone into their manufacture and the pride with which you will own and use them.

Choose individual items or complete sets (some in beautiful wood cases), including a variety of carving knives, chisels, gouges, wood sculpture tools, turning tools, screwdrivers, sharpening stones, marking and measuring tools, work benches and bench accessories, mallets, bits, hole saws, bow saws, drawknives . . . and much more.

See this superb line of woodcrafting tools at

HARDWOOD LUMBER

Our new 2000 square foot Hardwood Lumber Room in the downstairs area of our hardware store allows you to choose from among thousands of board feet of hard-to-find species of lumber. Walnut, oak, mahogany, cherry, maple, ash and wormy chestnut are all generally here in large quantities, planed on two sides and displayed vertically in racks. Beech, basswood, mulberry, sycamore, butternut, poplar and white pine are also currently available and on display.

Our shop consists of a separate 1000 square foot basement room which houses our old 20" thickness planer, now powered by a more modern 5 HP motor, and our 8" longbed jointer. These machines serve the production of smoothly dressed hardwood lumber from the rough-cut boards which we receive from the sawmill.

More lumber is stored in our accelerated air drying shed adjacent to the store. The air in this room is constantly heated and circulated among the stacks of lumber, enabling us to buy the lumber directly from the sawmill, season it ourselves, and offer it to you at down to earth prices.

I would like to offer our thanks to Leon Colwell, whose inspiration and ability to constantly discover quantities of beautiful hardwood has enabled us to develop such a large lumber inventory.

In addition to the fine hand tools, stationary power tools, and hardwood lumber, our hardware store offers a broad line of stains, finishes, strippers, solvents, and adhesives. WATCO Danish oil, Deft, Minwax, Tung oil, Butcher's Wax are a few of the products we carry. Our discount prices on Strypeeze, Kutzit, H₂Off, and Savogran Superstrip take some of the pain out of furniture stripping and refinishing.

BOOK REVIEW

Fine Woodworking DESIGN BOOK TWO.

Chairs, beds and stools; tables, desks and bureaus; tools, instruments and toys; cabinets, cupboards and houses; sculpture, carving and marquetry--and even a couple of canoes.

Fine Woodworking DESIGN BOOK TWO is a lavish treasury of 1,150 photographs of the best work in wood by 1,000 present-day craftsmen. It covers a breathtaking range, from traditional favorites to contemporary wonders. If you like wood, you'll love Design Book Two. Fine Woodworking's original Biennial Design Book (1977) was such a smashing success that the editors invited the magazine's 130,000 readers to send in photographs of the best work they had done since then. The response was overwhelming. The editors pored over thousands of entries to choose the very best photos of the very best woodworking. Design Book Two is the result: a unique record of the state of the woodworker's art in all its inspiring diversity.

Each photograph is accompanied by the dimensions of the work, and a list of the woods and principal techniques used. There also are informative remarks by the craftsmen themselves--on how they work and why they work. The book includes a directory of woodworkers, giving the business name, address and shop specialties of the professional craftsmen represented.
